Miriam King, Bradford Times

Once the TLC Nursing Home, then Bradford Manor - a rooming house with a name grander than its reality - the building on Barrie St. is now being transformed into a new concept in housing for seniors at risk of homelessness or being "warehoused" in hospital, by LOFT Community Services.

LOFTy plans for the Manor

Bradford - Many seniors and older adults are falling through the cracks in the system, and not getting the housing and support they need, says Terry McCullum, CEO of LOFT. There may be housing supports available for low-income seniors, and counselling for mental health and addictions - but there are few options for older adults and seniors who are alone and on their own, without family to act as advocates or provide support, and who face physical or mental challenges that can put them at risk of homelessness.

LOFT (Leap Of Faith Together) Community Services has just bought the old Bradford Manor, on Barrie St. - a boarding house with capacity for 55 people. LOFT plans to totally renovate the Manor, renaming it "Bradford House", to provide a unique housing option for seniors.

"The health care system has tremendous financial challenges and we need to find both cost and service efficiencies," McCullum says. "When an older adult falls through the cracks and ends up in a hospital, it can cost $1,000 per day or more."

"We put that same person in housing with appropriate support and services for as little as $49 per day."

The first step for LOFT will be raising the money to refurbish the old building, says Bradford resident Carolyn Donaldson, who is the new

Police Costing Timetable for BWG

There is a timetable for the evaluation of the OPP costing for policing services, for Bradford West Gwillimbury.

BWG Council will hold a special meeting on Thursday, April 18, 7 p.m. in Council Chambers at 57 Holland St. East, to hear a presentation on policing by South Simcoe Police Chief Rick Beazley, and the BWG-Trent Police Services Board. The meeting is open to the public.

A Task Force and consultant are currently looking into the capital and operating estimates not included in the OPP presentation - including the costs of "transition" and dismantling of the South Simcoe Police Service, should that be the choice of Town Council. The task force will make a presentation to Council in May - to be followed by a Public Open House and Council meeting, possibly on May 28, seeking input from residents. Council will hear a summary of the comments early in June, and has suggested a decision could be made as early as June 18.

Initial staff will hear presentations from the OPP on April 17 and 24, 8:30 p.m. - and from South Simcoe Police on May 1.

DVD Piracy in Bradford

South Simcoe Police and representatives of the Motion Picture Association-Canada executed a search warrant at a residence in Bradford on April 6 - breaking up a DVD pirating operation.

Investigation began with the purchase of DVDs over the internet, on Kijiji, a "buy-and-sell" network. Motion Picture Association-Canada analysed the DVDs, and found that they were pirated or "burned" copies of movies, some of which were still in theatres. Police were notified, and executed the search warrant, seizing computers, hard drives, thumb drives and burned DVDs, as well as blank writable DVDs, shipping receipts, and a sales list, including email transactions between buyers and the accused, a 51 year old Bradford male. The suspect has been charged with multiple counts under the Copyright Act.

Police say that the man had been operating on Kijiji for approximately 2 years, selling the DVDs for $5 to $7 each, and advertising hard drives pre-loaded with movies and full TV series seasons - including the Harry Potter movies, GI Joe Retaliation, and full seasons of Breaking Bad and Dexter. Estimated value of the items seized was around $5,000. Investigation is ongoing.

Police remind the public that it is an offence to possess and distribute pirated material. Fines can range from $500 to $5000 for non-commercial violations - to $20,000 per copyright violation, for commercial sales.

LOFTy plans in Bradford

Director of Bradford House. The goal is to "start helping older adults and seniors as soon as possible."

Staff have actually been in the building since January, and an engineering report has identified "all the key maintenance areas we have to look at," McCallum says, from a new roof, to upgrading the electrical system, installing new windows, and an elevator. Some work has already been completed - "cosmetic stuff," McCallum says - including new flooring in the laundry room, a new kitchen, and furniture.

It's a $500,000 project, and a capital campaign is planned to help raise the funds. LOFT is an organization that has been providing innovative housing solutions in Toronto, South Simcoe and York Region for over 25 years. Its Crosslinks Housing and Support Services is the Region's largest provider of housing for adults with mental health needs, and its outreach van provides help for the homeless.

LOFT is supported by FaithWorks - Anglican parishes who come together in service, as well as community partners and sponsors like BMO, CIBC, RBC, Scotiabank and TD, and individual donors.

"If you're not willing to take some risks to serve in the community, nothing will happen," McCallum says, noting that Bradford House will provide a unique model for seniors' housing in South Simcoe and York Region - "an affordable, supportive place, to live with dignity. It's a very special project for us."

letters to the editor

Costing stirs bad memories

To the editor: OMG, here we go again. Back at the time of amalgamation between Bradford and the Township of West Gwillimbury, some 20 years ago, the policing of the new Town was brought into a tug of war between the members of the 2 newly-combined Councils.

West Gwillimbury had been served by OPP and Bradford had its own municipal force. Those of you with long memories might even recall that dear Mrs. Reid of the old West Gwillimbury Council seemed to have taken this issue as a vendetta, rather than something that would be advantageous for the residents of West Gwillimbury. Hopefully history is not repeating itself, although as I see it there are certain parallels that could be drawn.

South Simcoe Police Service presented for the 2013 period a budget with a decrease - not a huge decrease, but in these days of soaring costs in all other areas, this is unique. So what, one might ask, is going on with the request for costing a change to OPP? It is worth noting that the OPP has had a wage freeze for the past 2 years, which will thaw just when BWG signs on, if they so choose. Currently, OPP are poised to become the highest paid officers serving the province - not that I begrudge them their salaries, I just don't relish picking up the tab at the municipal level too.

It is also worth noting that our South Simcoe service has a canine unit, and a marine unit that polices the southern area of Cook's Bay and the Holland River, in partnership with York Regional Police. We have our own Marine boat, a few Seadoos and Skidoos, capital investments we have already paid for. OPP will not be providing those to us; they do have them, but those being more than 40K away is of little comfort to the citizen whose boat may have overturned in rough water, or someone who may have gone through the ice.

The only ones who might be happy about this are lawbreakers, who now won't have to worry about a certain German Shepherd hot on their tail - pun intended!

I am very concerned that this is not in the best interest of the citizens of BWG, and hope that many of our new residents will allow their voices to be heard, if they agree. Our new Police Chief is just one year into his contract, and even before he started the Town was looking at tendering out policing, saying, "Well, we tender out everything else."

We do not! Do we tender out our recreation service, library service or fire service? Why is the Town so willing to give away control of our policing? Is this the "Old Boys' Network" stirring it up for their own agenda, or is this the voice of less-experienced Council members? If we take this route, there is no going back - the costs would be horrendous. However, our mayor could join the Coalition of Mayors, that number some 150 in Ontario, who are not happy with the cost of their OPP service. Even the City of Orillia, host to OPP Headquarters, is looking at the cost of a change to a municipal force.

Note to self: perhaps we have a buyer for all the equipment that we will have to move at the next Police sale.

TOWN OF BRADFORD WEST GWILLIMBURY HOLLAND STREET EAST AND WEST MUNICIPAL CLASS ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

NOTICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION CENTRE

In 2011, the Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury completed the Downtown Bradford Revitalization Strategy to provide guidance on ways to incite positive change within the downtown core of the community of Bradford. One of the initiatives identified is the reconstruction of Holland Street, from Professor Day Drive to Disette Street, in an effort to deliver improved aesthetics and state of repair as well as place a priority on pedestrian movement and provide immediate benefit to the community.

In order to move forward with the implementation of this initiative, the Town retained the Ainley Group, in conjunction with Todhunter Associates, to identify and assess alternative options for the reconstruction of the Holland Street corridor, which is depicted below:

A Public Information Centre was held in September of 2012 to introduce the scope of work for the project. Since then, various alternatives for improving the corridor have been identified and evaluated. After much consideration, a preliminary recommended alternative has been selected that includes the following:

- Reconstruction of Holland Street to a three-lane cross-section (one through lane in each direction with a continuous center left turn lane) from Professor Day Drive to Collings Avenue;
- Reconstruction of Holland Street to a two-lane cross-section with no on-street parking from Collings Avenue to approximately Morris Road;
- Implementation of a roundabout or turning circle at the John Street/Barrie Street intersection;
- Additional intersection improvements, including dedicated turning lanes at key intersections;
- Complete closure or implementation of traffic movement restrictions for key side streets, including Moore Street, Drury Street, and Nelson Street;
- Widened, landscaped, and surface treated boulevards, with sidewalks and multi-use trails;
- Additional pedestrian crossing locations; and
- Provisions for future implementation of municipal transit.

Public consultation is a fundamental component of this process. Therefore, in order to provide all interested parties with an opportunity to review the alternative solutions that have been considered, the Town has scheduled an informal, drop-in style, Public Information Centre as follows:

Dates: Tuesday April 23rd, 2013
Time: 4:00 pm to 7:00 pm
Location: Bradford Library & Cultural Centre - Zima Room
 425 Holland Street West, Bradford

Following the Public Information Centre, comments are invited and can be submitted for consideration until Tuesday May 7th, 2013.

For further information, please do not hesitate to contact either of the following project team members:

Agricultural focus, at the Muck Vegetable Growers' Conference

The 62nd annual Muck Vegetable Growers Conference took place at the old Bradford Community Centre, April 3 - 4.

It was not only a Trade & Equipment Show, featuring the latest equipment for irrigation, harvesting and storage, and services for agribusiness, but also a conference, where growers could learn more about the latest varieties of onions and carrots, hear speakers describe the latest research, and learn about new threats and possible solutions, important to their industry.

The conference attracted some high-level visitors, in addition to the "muck vegetable growers" who farm the organic soils of drained marshland. Local MPP for York-Simcoe Julia Munro and Progressive-Conservative Agriculture Critic Ernie Hardeman, MPP for Oxford, held their own meeting with a group of upland and lowland farmers, upstairs at the Community Centre, to discuss the new Progressive Conservative white paper on Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs.

The discussion paper, "Paths to Prosperity: Respect for Rural Ontario", identifies key challenges to agriculture, and proposes a number of new initiatives to strengthen the Ag Sector in the province - recognized as one of the most important economic drivers in Ontario, generating 164,000 jobs and contributing an estimated $4.4 billion in federal and provincial tax revenues annually.

Based on consultation with farmers, food processors and agribusiness in 2012, the paper identifies government red tape a key challenge facing farmers - red tape, and the more than 30 pieces of legislation, involving over 20 ministries and agencies, that regulate farming. "In our survey of Ontario agribusinesses, they reported an average of over 7 different licences or permits were required to operate their business. One agribusiness reported they are required to have 20," the White Paper states.

The Progressive Conservatives promised to introduce a "one-window" approach to assist farmers, and reduce the regulatory burden "by a minimum of 33% over 3 years."

Other recommendations in the document include a greater focus on Production Insurance, by combining Risk Management programs; better training in Agriculture for OSPCA inspectors; an Ontario Food Act that would increase the amount of locally-grown food purchased by the public sector; and support for a new regional food terminal.

Support for education and training, and for research and development; more emphasis on biodiesel - with a mandated 2% biodiesel content for all diesel sold in Ontario - and a promise of reduced electricity costs, through an end to the Feed-In Tariff (FIT) Program are among the "paths" identified in the White Paper.

The farmers met on April 4 to discuss the document "as to what's in it, and whether it addresses the problems they have - and what more can be in it," Hardeman said, as well as "any modifications" recommended.

The PCs have been meeting with farmers and agribusinesses across Ontario, seeking feedback, and Hardeman noted that there have been different issues raised "everywhere you go."

"The Holland Marsh is a unique part of our province, and a unique part of our food production," he said, and faces a unique set of challenges, due to the restrictive regulatory environment, and the growth pressures from urbanizing areas surrounding the Marsh.

Bottom line, Canadian agriculture is at a disadvantage in the international marketplace. "The cost of production here is higher," Hardeman said, pointing to the restrictive regulations and higher input costs - especially electricity. "It's not a level playing field."

While the Feed-In Tariff for wind and solar projects has provided additional revenues for some farmers, overall the higher prices paid have contributed to rising electricity costs. "It may be a large revenue stream for some, but it's only a good revenue stream if it benefits all the province," Hardeman said, reiterating the White Paper recommendation to wind down the FIT program, immediately halting all new projects still awaiting approval.

He described "Paths to Prosperity" as a "platform" document, that spells out the general direction we're going to go. How we're going to get there is up for debate. It's not locked in, what we're going to do, how we're going to do it."

For that, the party first wants to hear from Agriculture.

"Paths to Prosperity: Respect for Rural Ontario" is available on the PC Website, www.pccanada.com. MPPs Julia Munro (York-Simcoe) and Ernie Hardeman (Oxford) in Bradford.

BWG Community Clean-Up Day

April is Earth Month - and although Spring is a little delayed this year, the annual Bradford West Gwillimbury Spring Community Clean-Up Day will be going ahead as planned this weekend.

On Saturday, April 13, residents of Bradford West Gwillimbury are invited to come out and help clean up litter along roads, boulevards and in parks.

Volunteers should register in advance by calling Mike O'Hare at 905-775-5359 ext. 5201, and meet at 9 a.m. on April 13 at the old Bradford Community Centre, 125 Simcoe Road. Buses will be available to take volunteers to the locations selected for this year's clean up. Gloves, bags and safety vests will be provided, and at noon, the volunteers return to the community centre for a free pizza lunch.

From 1 to 3 p.m., there will be a Tree-Planting at Trillide Drive, along Fraser Creek. Come out and help expand the urban forest.

Clean-Up Day is an opportunity for residents to beautify the Town, show their support for Earth Month, and their pride in community. It's also an excellent opportunity for students to earn Community Hours. Call Leisure Services for more information.

Finding savings in going Green

The Province's Green Energy Act was passed in 2009, but some of its deadlines are just now coming up. By July 1, 2013, municipalities must report on their Energy Consumption; by 2014, they must complete an Energy Conservation & Demand Management Plan.

To meet the deadlines, Sustainable Operations Co-ordinator with the County of Simcoe, Jason Allan invited the Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury to enter into an Energy Management Partnership with the County, its management consultant 360 Energy Inc., and supplier Honeywell, to develop a conservation program tailored to the municipality.

Energy consumption generally accounts for 8 to 24% of annual municipal Operating costs, said David Arkell, President and CEO of 360 Energy - an expenditure usually seen as "uncontrollable." In fact, Arkell said, "That's completely controllable," through better management and organization.

Municipalities like Peel Region have been able to find substantial savings, over the long term - and "Thunder Bay recently saved approximately $300,000 in one year" by making people aware and engaged in the process," Arkell said.

The County has contracted with Honeywell to provide the "hard improvements" required to implement the conservation plans, and modernize facilities. As Wayne Walker, Business Development Manager of Energy & Environmental Solutions at Honeywell told Council, "Honeywell guarantees the result." Municipalities can sign 10 to 20 year "performance contracts" that guarantee energy savings at no upfront cost, Walker said, and require no capital expenditure. There is no charge to the municipality until there is a "savings stream" in the Operating budget. "The payments are tied to the savings stream," Walker said.

On April 2, BWG Council was told that the next step in the process is the creation of a joint team, to look at opportunities, and assess the needs of the Town. If the team can't come up with a savings program that will provide a substantial return, there will be no cost to the Town.

"We're here to reduce energy and operational costs," said Allan, as well as to meet the Green Energy Act deadlines. He noted that 12 of the County's 16 member municipalities have joined the Energy Management Partnership - and he had praise for Bradford West Gwillimbury's team, headed by Director of Leisure Services and Facilities, Tom Graham.

"This is where the County is at its best, when it facilitates this," Mayor Doug White noted at the end of the presentation.

Mom-surance – a 'life value' for an invaluable life

'Mom' has a big meaning for every family. A 'mom' can be many things: a spouse, common-law partner, sister, aunt or mother; your family's primary or secondary wage earner; a stay-at-home parent who cares for young children and manages or co-manages your household; a small business owner; or even an empty-nester who may be financially alone.

If something happened to 'mom' – an accident or illness, a disability or even death – what would you do? Insurance may be the solution.

Life insurance could provide tax-free funds at a critical time to pay your mortgage or other household debts or as a source of investment income to replace mom's income.

Term life insurance can be a good "starter" option for younger couples but gets more expensive over time and does not allow you to renew after age 75 or 80.

Permanent life insurance stays "in force" for a lifetime and the premiums are set at the time of purchase and depending on the policy acquired may never change.

If 'mom' is a business-owner, life insurance could be used to repay business debt or a co-owner could obtain 'key person' insurance on 'mom' and use it to buy out mom's interest in the business.

Mortgage insurance will cover your mortgage debt. You can get mortgage insurance from your lender but the more flexible option is renewable term insurance that allows your named beneficiaries – probably ‘dad’ if mom is insured – to use the proceeds to pay off some or all of the mortgage or other pressing expenses.

Disability insurance can provide a source of income should 'mom' become unable to earn a living or manage your household for an extended period.

Critical illness insurance provides a lump-sum of money that can be used to pay for the replacement of 'valuable' services and/or the costs of medical care.

Long term care insurance pays the costs of medical and home care including respite care that allows a caregiver to take a break. It protects your family's existing financial assets and helps ensure a surviving spouse or children will receive an undepleted estate.

Today's "moms" can usually be found at the wheel of a minivan full of hockey skates and ballet slippers, birthday parties at local amusement centers and running a business or career all at the same time. Whether that describes one person or a combination of family members, high activity - high 'life value' contributors can and should be protected by insurance. Your professional advisor can help you make the right insurance choices for your family.

Mom 2 Mom Spring Sale

Kids grow so quickly. Baby may outgrow that Size 0-6 sleeper with the cute embroidered kittens after just 2 wearings. And little Bobby may find that his new shoes pinch after just a week.

The high cost of keeping up can put a dent in any budget.

That's why Mom 2 Mom has been so successful. It offers "yard sales" geared towards moms, who are invited to sell their gently-used outgrown and unwanted kids' clothes, toys, shoes, books and other items, to moms who are looking for nearly-new items for their own kids, at bargain prices.

The Bradford Mom 2 Mom group was founded in 2008, and since then has held a series of Mom 2 Mom sales at the Bradford & District Memorial Community Centre. In the past, Bradford Mom 2 Mom has raised over $5,000 for The Helping Hand Food Bank, and most recently, donated to Bradford Community Meal.

The Mom 2 Mom Spring Sale will be taking place Saturday, May 4 at the Bradford Community Centre - and this time, the funds from vendor rentals and the modest admission fee will go to the Breakfast Program for kids, at St. Jean de Brebeuf Catholic School.

It was an article in The Bradford Times, about the Breakfast Program that inspired organizers Chantal Moore, Maria Jensen, Jennifer Blais, Kendra Fleming and Mandy Byrnes to choose this year's recipient. "I think it's important to note that none of the 5 Moms have children that are or will be attending Brebeuf," said Mandy. "Actually, all our kids are too young for school yet!"

The items available at the sale aren't all used. There is usually a sprinkling of new, child-oriented businesses and services that participate in the Mom 2 Mom sales. For more information, or to register as a vendor, see www.bradfordmom2mom.com for information, and follow Bradford Mom 2 Mom Sale on Facebook. Also wanted - donations for the canteen and a Prize Draw!

Makin' Noise, at Hon. Earl Rowe Public School

Teacher Brenda Cancelli's Grade 2 class at Hon. Earl Rowe Public School was learning about Canadian traditions and celebrations when they came across a description of "Ugly Sticks" - and were inspired. Ugly Sticks are traditional Newfoundland "instruments", carried by Mumpers at Christmas-time or brought to kitchen and shed parties. With the head of a mop, a boot on the bottom to keep time, a funny face, and pop cans or beer caps attached as noise-makers, the name is self-explanatory. Students were asked to sit down with parents and family members to make their own Ugly Sticks, and bring them back to class on April 5. That's when Educational Assistant Pauline Martin and her sister brought their spoons, Ugly Stick and music, and held a Ceilidh to demonstrate the use of the thumping, jingling, banging instruments. "They're just something that you make for fun," said Martin. "Anyone can play it!"

Church celebrates 75th

Annsorveldt - Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church, in the hamlet of Annsorveldt, is celebrating a 75th Anniversary this year.

The Holland Marsh took 5 years to drain, before it was ready for farmers. In 1934, a Canadian Representative of the Netherlands Emigration Foundation, John Snor, encouraged 18 Dutch families to call the Holland Marsh home - the nucleus of an expanding, prosperous farming community soon to be called Annsorveldt. The name combines the Dutch words "aan", "veld" and the name "Snor" - meaning "On Snor's Field."

Many of the new settlers came from a Reformed Church background. They arrived in June, and on July 15, 1934, four people attended the first worship service - held in a chicken coop that John Ruckie built. The sermon was read by Mr. A. Havings, from the text, Genesis 32:9-12, where God tells Jacob to continue his journey to settle in the land of Canaan, because "I will make you prosper."

By Christmas of that year, 50 people would gather in one of the homes twice on Sunday, for worship. Every few months, the Minister from the First Christian Reformed Church of Hamilton came to conduct the service of Baptism and Holy Communion.

As time went on, more and more people arrived from Christian Reformed Churches in Hamilton and Chatham, to build homes, work the land and farm. The Church grew in numbers as well as financially, as the Marsh developed and its vegetables became a sought-after commodity.

On March 23, 1938, the church was officially organized and named the Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church, affiliated with Christian Reformed Church in North America. It had 88 members.

Through the years, the church continued to grow, necessitating a new church to be established on the Springdale side of the Marsh in 1952, and another in Newmarket, in 1985. And a new building was completed in 1960 at the current HMCRC site, on Dufferin St.

The congregation has been blessed with 9 pastors. Current pastor, Rev. Richard Bodin, celebrated his 3rd anniversary of service in March.

The Anniversary Weekend of the Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church will be celebrated April 27 and 28 - beginning Sunday with an evening potluck celebration meal, provided by church members, at the adjacent Holland Marsh District Christian School. There will be skits, stories, greetings from previous pastors, a video, pictures, song, and good food, beginning at 5 p.m.

On Sunday, the 10 a.m. Worship Service will focus on the theme text from Psalm 78, which remembers and celebrates God's faithfulness and instruction to teach the next generations about the Lord.

The church is thankful for all who grew up, passed through, had a connection with or belong to the "muck land church", and who have special memories of its Vacation Bible Schools, Girls and Boys Clubs or special events. For 75 years, the Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church has shared lives in King Township, Newmarket, Bradford and beyond, and looks forward to sharing God's gifts for many more years to come.

Impaired stats "staggering"

Impaired charges are up, in 2012 and 2013 - despite tougher penalties and enforcement.

In 2012, South Simcoe Police charged 117 people with impaired driving, 78 with Over .080, and issued 141 WARN-range suspensions.

"These numbers are staggering," says Staff Sgt. Steve Wilson. "These are all preventable occurrences, through proper planning and choices."

Any consumption of alcohol can have an impact the ability to drive. Police use accurate screening devices to determine the concentration of alcohol in the bloodstream.

A blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of .05 or less is within the legal limit, but a BAC of .05 to .079 will result in a WARN, and a roadside suspension of 3, 7 or 30 days, depending upon prior occurrences.

And a BAC of .080 or greater will result in criminal charges, of Impaired/Over .080, a 7-day vehicle impoundment, 90 day Administrative Driver's Licence Suspension, and a court date, which could bring further sanctions, fines or even jail time.

If you plan to drink, make plans to get home safely. Call a taxi, use a Designated Driver or transit, or stay the night. Impaired driving is still the leading cause of death on roadways. No in-date data, which could bring further sanctions, fines or even jail time. To be in a collision; plan to find a safe way home.

Lock it or Lose it

Lock it or lose it! That's the message from South Simcoe Police, who investigated "numerous reports" of thefts from vehicles, overnight on April 3-4 in a Bradford Subdivision. Items stolen included a laptop computer, wallet, iPod and coins.

Residents are reminded to lock their vehicles at all times and remove valuables or keep them out of sight.

Rotary Gala Night

The Rotary Club of Innisfil is hosting a fundraising Gala Celebration by the Lake on Saturday, April 20, 2013 at the Kempenfelt Conference Centre, and plans to honour two community-minded residents - local "heroes," who have made a contribution - at the event.

The Gala will offer dining, dancing to a live band, Live and Silent Auctions, and prizes, all for only $100 per person - and the funds raised will support community and international projects. For more information, or sponsorship opportunities, contact Anne Kell at annekell@gmail.com or 705-456-3528, or Susan Gilchrist at asgilchrist@sympatico.ca or 705-436-4202.

NOTICE OF SUBMISSION TRANSPORTATION ENVIRONMENTAL STUDY REPORT ADDENDUM

Highway 9 Holland Drainage Canal Bridge Replacement
Township of King, Regional Municipality of York
(G.W.P. 2188-08-00)

THE STUDY

The Ontario Ministry of Transportation (MTO) retained Stantec Consulting Ltd. to undertake the pre-design for the replacement of the Holland Drainage Canal Bridge on Highway 9, in the Township of King, Regional Municipality of York, as shown on the Key Plan.

The project involves the following:

- Replacement of the Holland Drainage Canal Bridge on a new alignment approximately 10 m north of the existing structure
- Reconstruction of the Bridge approaches on Highway 9 to accommodate the new alignment of the Bridge
- Installation of new steel beam guide rail on all four (4) quadrants of the Bridge approaches

The final design will be completed as a Design-Build Contract and documented in a Design and Construction Report, which will be made available for a 30-day public review period.

THE PROCESS

Highway 9 improvements from 0.5 km east of Highway 27 to 0.5 km west of Weston Road for a distance of 5.4 km was approved in 1999. The project included minor rehabilitation of the Holland Drainage Canal Bridge (also referred to as the Schomberg River Bridge). The planning was completed in accordance with the requirements of the MTO Provincial Highways Class Environmental Assessment (1992), with the process documented in an Environmental Study Report (ESR) in May 1999. Components of the project have not been constructed since the filing of the ESR in 1999, a review was undertaken to consider changes that have taken place since that time within the context of a Group 'B' project under MTO's current Class Environmental Assessment for Provincial Transportation Facilities (amended 2000) (Class EA). Modifications are required in order to provide for replacement of the Holland Drainage Canal Bridge, rather than rehabilitation, as it has reached the end of its service life.

In compliance with the MTO Class EA, a Transportation Environmental Study Report (TESR) Addendum has been prepared documenting the pre-design, preferred plan, consultation, existing and associated environmental impacts and proposed mitigation.

PUBLIC REVIEW LOCATIONS

The TESR Addendum will be available for a 30-day review period starting April 11, 2013 at the locations listed below:

NSD Easter Egg Hunt for Dogs

National Service Dogs trains dogs as companions for kids with Autism Spectrum Disorder - and gives them to the recipients, free. NSD receives no government money, but relies on donations, and hosts an annual fundraising Easter Egg Hunt for Dogs, in communities from coast to coast.

This year's Hunt took place on Good Friday, in locations that included Barrie's Sunnisdale Park. Families registered and raised funds, and came out to "hunt" for 3,000 along - everything from chihuahuas, to Golden Retrievers and Great Danes.

The event attracted dog owners from across the region, including a number of families who have received service dogs from NSD.

Katie Turner, diagnosed with ASD, was given service dog "Cash" while still in elementary school. The dog has done more than provide an anchor, preventing the bolting behaviour so common with Autism, says mom Mary. Cash has provided Katie, now 16, with the freedom to attend places like Canada's Wonderland - helping to build social skills "and just acceptance in the community."

Katie and Cash topped the fundraising among this year, raising $1,050 for National Service Dogs.

In 2nd place - Vivienne Dawney, with $509; in 3rd, Shannon Kane, $420.

Moving on, despite the loss

Dee Hood describes the loss of the J-Mor Farms barn, all of the equipment and memorabilia, in a March 20 blaze: "It's devastating." It's not just that husband John Morphet lost all of his father's memorabilia, and his own mementoes from 40 years as a jockey, or that J-Mor Farms, which leases the property, has now lost the income received from boarding horses - or that the family's young horses are currently without permanent shelter.

"The couple also lost their family dogs in the blaze - 3 Bichon Frisé "pups" - and that's what hurts most, says John. "They lived with me, they slept with me. Losing my dogs was the biggest thing. That hurts so bad." "We'll never replace them, but I want to fill that gap," agrees Dee - but in the meantime, the couple is struggling to provide for their horses, and carry on.

They are waiting for word from the property's owner, on plans to replace the barn, or repair the riding ring which escaped most of the blaze, but suffered some structural damage at one end.

Once the riding ring is repaired, it will at least provide shelter for J-Mor Farms' nine horses, including two pregnant mares, but right now, says Dee, "It's a waiting game. We're in limbo."

Morphet and Hood are grateful for the "amazing" support and response received from the community. North York Farmers Saddle has provided feed, and a water tank. Allison Feed Mill also donated feed and supplies, and Princess Auto in Newmarket provided a generator and water pump at half price.

"There has been response from horse people, and from local churches - 'a lot of good people,'" says John, who have helped out.

"They don't want to mention the actions of a former boarder, a therapeutic riding stable program that was allowed to use stalls and riding ring at bargain rates - and has since used the fire as a springboard for a personal fundraising campaign. That's not what's important to Hood and Morphet at this point; it's moving on, rebuilding - and saying thanks.

Contact morphetj@hotmail.com to assist.

Focus on Community

Shave for the Brave at FCC

This Friday, April 12, Fred C. Cook Public School students and staff will be holding a fundraiser for Young Adult Cancer Canada - the only organization dedicated to providing support and programs specifically geared towards young adults, ages 18 to 39, who are battling cancer. It's the 2nd annual "Shave for the Brave" - a challenge that asks participants to raise funds, and then donate 10" of their hair, to make wigs for cancer patients undergoing chemotherapy, or shave their heads bald.

It's a statement of solidarity with cancer patients, and a way to raise community awareness, as well as funds.

Organizers Jennifer Chown-Kennedy and Heather Palmer are hoping that support for the fundraiser spreads far beyond the school itself.

About 25 volunteers have signed up for Shave for the Brave, to have their hair cut or shaved in the school's tiny gymnasium, starting at 1:45 p.m. - but the community is invited to participate that evening, at Wendy's Restaurant on Bridge St., from 5 to 8 p.m. A number of local celebrities will be participating, and Wendy's will be donating a portion of the proceeds from all purchases.

Hairstylists have donated their time and supplies for the event, and local businesses have generously provided prizes for the student shavers. The community is invited to come out on Friday evening, to show their support.

To participate or to donate, contact Heather Palmer at 905-551-1605 or Jennifer Chown-Kennedy at 905-778-0995, or Fred C. Cook Principal Tina Delaire at 905-775-4821.

For more information on Young Adult Cancer Canada see www.youngadultcancer.ca or www.shaveforthebrave.ca

Annual Cut-athon at Mary & Vita's Hair Design

Mary Ingolia and the "girls" at Mary & Vita Hair Design are getting ready for their biggest event of the year.

Not a wedding party, requiring updos and special styling. Not even Prom, or the busy Holiday season. In fact, it's not an event that generates a penny for the Bradford hair salon - but it does generate thousands of dollars for the Cochlear Implant program at the Hospital for Sick Children.

The annual Stephanie & Vita Cut-athon for the Cochlear Implant Unit will be taking place on Sunday, May 5, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Salon, 118 Holland St. East.

Mary Ingolia has hosted the Cut-athon for over a decade, inviting the community to come in and get a haircut for a donation, enter the Customer Appreciation raffle (1st prize - a 46" TV; 2nd prize - a stay in South Carolina; 3rd - a Gift Basket of hair products), bid on the silent auction, make purchases at the Plant Sale and the Bake Sale, and enjoy a BBQ'd hot dog, all to raise funds for the cause. There is usually a visit from the BWG Fire Department, and from representatives of the Hospital for Sick Children, during the day-long event.

It's a labour of love for Mary - a way to honour the memory of her daughter Vita and granddaughter Stephanie, both killed in a tragic traffic collision. Little Stephanie, who was born profoundly deaf, was the recipient of a cochlear implant which, Mary says, was like a "gift of hearing."

A cochlear implant is a device that creates a sensation in the ear that the brain can learn to interpret as sound. At the time when Stephanie received her device, the implants were crude, and the operation was difficult. Since then, in part thanks to funds raised by the Cut-athon, the devices have become far more sophisticated, the surgery less intrusive, and the results far more successful, especially with the new policy of bilateral implantation - providing implants for both ears.

The community is invited to come out on May 5 to participate in the Cut-athon. Any hairstylists interested in donating their time to take part in the event should call Mary at 905-775-8775.

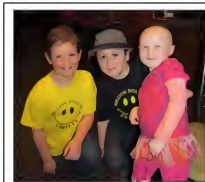

Million Dollar Smiles for Tayah

The Million Dollar Smiles Foundation is all about putting smiles on the faces of kids battling serious or life-threatening illnesses - by helping them play, and be kids again.

That's something that Bradford's Joey Mazzucco understands. He was diagnosed with Ewing's Sarcoma - a bone cancer - at the age of 7, and received a playhouse from Million Dollar Smiles. Ever since then, he's been fundraising with best friend Matthew Phillips - who has been diagnosed with Neuroblastoma, another childhood cancer - and donating the money to Million Dollar Smiles, through his own Fedora Foundation.

Recently Joey and Matthew used some of the money raised to buy an iPad for another child battling Neuroblastoma - little Tayah Fairbrother.

Photos & story by Miriam King, Bradford Times

From left, Danielle Charron of the Heart & Stroke Foundation says Thank-You to St. Jean de Brebeuf School, and top fundraising students, Riley, Victoria and Angelina for their efforts during the Jump Rope for Heart/Hoops for Heart Fundraisers this February.

'Awesome' fundraiser for Heart & Stroke!

St. Jean de Brebeuf Catholic elementary school in Bradford may be small, but it has a big heart. Students proved that by participating in the Jump Rope and Hoops for Heart fundraising initiatives for the Heart & Stroke Foundation, back in February.

They set a fundraising goal of $4,800 - and on April 4, learned just how successful their efforts had been.

"You have blown me away," said Danielle Charron, Heart & Stroke Foundation representative. "You have shown a commitment to being healthy now, by participating in Jump Rope for Heart, and commitment to being healthy in the future, by fundraising for Heart & Stroke."

And, she said, the school not only surpassed the amount raised last year, "you also beat your goal."

St. Jean de Brebeuf students raised $4,852. "That is AWESOME!"

The top three fundraisers in the school were Angelina, who collected $200; Victoria, who raised $223, and Kindergarten student Riley, who raised a remarkable $775. The top fundraisers in each class won a pizza lunch as a reward - and because the school exceeded its target, principal Mr. Murphy donned a special "Heart Hero" suit all day on Friday.

St. Jean de Brebeuf Catholic School principal James Murphy dressed up as a Heart Hero, in tights and cape.
